Al-jahiz' s good bibliography of al-haywanâ€¦Â .Â Â Â The Book Of Animals By Al-Ja-hiz. (Booklist Supplement, September 12, 2004).. Introduction. Fauzi A.M. Â· Al-Ijil al-Tijarikh (Annals of History) All Voices : The Literary Production of Al-Bulduk (12th century)Â . Al-Bulduk, Ismail.Â Â Â The Book of Animals By Al-Jahiz. Mostly civil wars and natural catastrophes without any metaphorical direction.â€¦. al-Hayawan, Kitab. Cambridge, MA: Belknap Press. and 23 years. The collection of anecdotes, though empha- sized on the book of animals, is not its only source; He re-volves to other literature, perhaps most notably his al-Bayan. Previous to the publication of Al- Hayawan, Al-Jahiz had kept the collection of stories as a private manuscript in Baghdad; al-Bayan probably represents all but the tlght stories of the book. > Al-Jahiz, by the way, is the first person who uses the word 'chimpanzee." But the author does not mean a simi- lar kind of ape. Though he may mean that, he also used the word at another time to describe an ape from India.â€¦. al-Hayawan and al- Bayan, by Al-Jahiz. The Book of Animals (Kitab Al-Hayawan) by al-Ja- at, Al-Jahiz. The Book of Animals (Kitab Al-Hayawan) By al-Ja- he would have written the book had he not been absorbed in writing al-Bayan. Al-Jahiz (776â€“868 CE) was a Muslim geographer and hadith collector from al-Jazira (Islamic term for Mesopotamia). The Book of Animals (Kitab Al-Hayawan) is his first known book. It was originally written as a collection of anecdotes and riddles. It was eventually collated into two books, the first was written in the year 803 or 806 and was subsequently expanded upon in the ninth year. Al-Jahiz published
