What's New In AutoZip For Outlook?

❓ AutoZip for Outlook is an add-in for Microsoft Outlook 2000/2002 (XP)/2003 which enables you to automatically compress attachments of outgoing message with a single click. If you send e-mail messages with attachments sometimes the recipient is not able to get the message because a message or mailbox size has been exceeded because the attachments you sent are too large. Normally you would now compress the attachment manually and create a new message including the compressed attachments. A boring and time consuming job. Let AutoZip for Outlook do this job automatically for you. Limitations: ❓ The freeware version is fully functional except that a message is being displayed every time you lock (encrypt) or unlock (decrypt) a message. ❓ Prior to version 4.8 AutoZip also counts the attachments to the message but that function has been removed. ❓ Previously AutoZip for Outlook also counted the attachments of the message but this function has been removed. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook is free of charge as long as it will be used for personal use only. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook is not a replacement for a commercial e-mail server solution. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook should be installed as an add-in not as a mail reader replacement. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook does not provide a solution for encrypted and decrypted attachments. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook works only with Microsoft Outlook 2000/2002 (XP)/2003. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook does not take account of attachments already compressed in the inbox and does not change the number of attachments in a message. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook is not compatible with Microsoft Outlook 2007. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook is not compatible with MS Outlook 2000 (later versions) and does not work with MS Outlook Express. ❓ AutoZip for Outlook does not
