Independent FPD - Still the Only Choice
Fancy purchasing an Isuzu Fiance thanks to a new hire? That's not all - we've just made our JCBs, Scubas and Foxes virtually maintenance-free! That's right, more cost-effective service, with a total of 9 tractors to choose from with just one model remaining: the Independent. With the change to the Independent becoming effective immediately, there's never been a better time to purchase an Independent. You will be shocked to learn that the Independent is now cheaper than previous models - the Black is now priced at £14,995.00 and the new Grey is £15,295.00. As in previous years, the independent continues to be an excellent buy at £16,495.00 for the Red - the lowest priced independent in the history of the model. The Independent is the most cost effective way to buy, offering all independent models for no more than the cost of a Rayleigh cab and sleeper. Of course, it's not just those prices that are incredible. As we've launched our new range of sister brands, there's never been a better time to own an Independent, since every independent model is now our cheapest ever from inception. The recent news regarding Puma arriving in the market has had one of the most significant impacts on the independent market, with the recent introduction of the Compact turning the price of the Puma up by at least a hundred pounds. While the Compact is indeed cheaper than the independent, the current price of £3,995.00 makes it the most expensive option we've ever sold! And don't forget - if you ever want to upgrade to any new model in the near future, the Compact is an absolute steal of a deal at just £4,099.00, making it the cheapest to be added to, and, in the case of the new red model, one of the cheapest to be bought. It's fantastic to be able to offer the best value for money around, and the Independent is still the only FPD with a major investment in our new range of sister brands. So if you're on the lookout for an incredible value investment, one that allows you to not just buy an independent, but adds another pair of legs to support it, why not check out the new Independent and take delivery of

What's New In?

I spent a lot of my childhood outside playing baseball, basketball, football, soccer, and excelling in track. Something I really don't ever give myself credit for was how valuable the 5K was for me in high school. Being involved in athletics, coaching, and athletics coaching means a lot of things for me. There are so many great moments shared with all of you and I cherish every one of them. At the end of the day, athletics teaches me humility and gratitude as you are all watching out for me. My family is lucky to have some athletic special talents. My dad played football, my mom coached softball and I played basketball. I was also the starting center for the softball team while I was in high school. A lot of people believe if you play multiple sports, then you are a better athlete. While that is a great way to a good game of pick up basketball or football, the truth is, I don't believe that you can be a better athlete if you do. I was one of the best players in the state of Texas, but at the end of the day, I was only one in a class of over 100 people. The truth is that all athletes are created equal. You can be the best of the best in your sport, but at the end of the day, you will have your moments of discomfort and doubt and be thrust into situations where everyone will be watching. I was also blessed with athletic talent that allowed me to excel in the weight room. I was able to excel at what I loved, which was sports. I was also able to build muscles, gain muscle and get stronger as a result. In the weight room, I was able to compete with guys who were the best at the same position. That is how I was able to realize the best results. I may be known as one of the top defensive lineman in the nation, but if I wasn't being a dominant athlete, I wouldn't be the best at the position.
