Using a specific plasma nucleic acid (PNA) and ribonuclease PNA (R-PNA) ELISA, we studied the plasma levels of nucleic acids and RNA/DNA ratio over a 12-h time course of endotoxin in a rat model. Biology and nutrition of weaning and post-weaning diarrhoea in piglets. In pre-weaning and post-weaning pigs, diarrhoea is a major contributor to mortality and morbidity and leads to a large financial loss for the pig producer. The most important risk factors for diarrhoea are weaning, primiparity, litter size and sow parity. Other risk factors may be 'weaning colostrum', 'suckling instinct' and 'environmental enteropathy'. Pre- and post-weaning pigs with the highest risk for developing diarrhoea are those born and raised in environmentally polluted areas and which are weaned on to a high-protein wean diet. It is suggested that dietary manipulation to correct the negative effects of environmental pollution could be achieved by the modification of the following: (1) starter and grower diet formulation; (2) protein source, e.g. protein level, quality and digestibility; (3) feeding level, e.g. duration, shape and size

What's new:

- SAFE ZONE: Introduces a new 3D system that helps create more controlled, enjoyable games and complies more closely to the rules of the game.
- MOTION CONTROL: Lower the intensity of player random speed up/down movements. Make their animation less visible to the player. Maintain the realism of the movements as they occur at real speed and in various weather conditions. Able to change the speed of the animation depending on whether the player is in the air or in motion on the ground etc. Also useful for when they are reaching with their studs or when they are performing long passes.
- NEW FIELD OF VIEW (FOV): The new field of view when looking down the length of the pitch. The new FOV will reduce the occurrences of out of bounds moments that can be perceived due to the previous FOV. This will particularly be useful for when there is more players on the field.
- Improved breath and motion capture data: Uses real time and more accurate motion capture data, including more motions and more actions than in the previous game to enhance the FUT experience.
- Improved Basebuilding: New build placement mechanics and options. Now use a real-time build placement map to plan and place your custom base. "Know It All" players can zoom out to take in a bigger view and more easily click on the base to place.
- No defender tackling a player in the penalty area: If a defender runs into the attacking player in the penalty area but the scoring attempt on goal is blocked by an opponent then there will no "offside" feedback provided for the defender - the defender won't receive any visual/audio indicator as they don't actually touch the player.
- Distance Sensitive A.I.: Will automatically position the players to maintain the distance to the ball rather than block off further space for the opposing team.
- Manage the goal keeper: The keeper will now stay back and let the attackers control the game until the team has secured the goal. Will remain in position if the player is cut off from the ball and face the direction of the player running past the post.

- Referees have a range of new judgment calls that can be used to further animate the game, providing more realistic results from the interaction between players and the ball:
