Q: KendoUI MVC EntityDataSource vs. SqlDataSource I am using the KendoUI and was wondering if I can use the MVC EntityDataSource with my database instead of using the SqlDataSource? Can I use an EntityDataSource with LINQ to SQL, or do I need to use the SqlDataSource? The examples I found online only seemed to have used the SqlDataSource but the docs clearly state that the entity datasource supports linq. Can someone please help me? Thanks so much! A: The example given in the KendoUI documentation for an entity datasource uses SqlDataSource. I have also tested the examples with an entity datasource and I was able to get it to work.
