The add-on contains a brand new loco, the 80mph record holder British Rail Class 66. The British Railways multiple unit Class 66 was the most successful passenger train type in Britain. It was designed as a successor to the popular British Rail A1 class of the late 1950s and was able to provide a basic service between London and the North without requiring a journey on a new line. Available as an FOC (First Outing Complete) model it can be used with any of the FOC locomotives to create a viable alternative to long-distance routes. Each loco is equipped with a powerful Westinghouse alternator with the brand new custom made controller and chassis. It's packing a total of 5kW power. The three driving cabs are equipped with full-sized seating with adjustable headrests and height adjustable seats to provide a comfortable driving position. This is the software which will be used to make a version of the TS: GP9 game. With each new release we will start a couple of new major projects. One of them is the development of this add-on: the development of this add-on will be a major project where progress will be reported regularly. The other big project will be a complete map overhaul which will completely change the game: in the first place a geographical map overhaul that will feature the new new world countries. Secondly, a new environment overhaul with new cargo and industrial goods, new roads, updated railways and historical modifications. The development of this add-on has already started. It is a major project in which progress will be reported regularly. This add-on is just the start of a big project. New Features (Please Note: This is only a short list): Completely new graphics New scenery (signs, industry, airports, water and vegetation) New locomotives New track New livery New survey points New train stations New war-wagons New sound-track New control panel New cargo Completely new train routes New track elements New train drivers New option menu Completely new railway work orders: New full-cab drivers New loco drivers New guard-car drivers New luggage services New decouplers New towing cars New working cars Completely new off-line career

DRAGON BALL XENOVERSE 2 - Ultra Pack 2

A management RPG with deep combat mechanics and a history-based, story-driven campaign. Battles take place on procedurally generated medieval maps, with new enemies, treasure, events, and monsters being added to the game every time you play. Be it your first day in the Cursed Lands or in a year long campaign, the world changes around you as you level up your character and fight for the survival of your village. The Music: The music of Dawn of the Dread is mainly inspired by the synthesizers of the 80's, along with a few psychedelic tunes. The Artwork: The artwork is inspired by the work of Flemish artists like Pieter Bruegel the Elder and Hieronymus Bosch, along with the Polish master of the grotesque, Maciej Makowski. The Mechanics: Most of the mechanics are inspired by the roguelike genre, with a deep battle system, lots of customizability and a vibrant procedurally generated world. The combat system is based around 'attacks' - both weak and lethal - and 'skills' - focused around either a single attack or a group of three. The player has also 2 out of four skills at all times, with the others being learned at a certain level. Each class has it's own set of skills, and of course, different weapons can be used in different situations, and even 'Attacks' can be customized by the player. The Vibe: Dawn of the Dread is probably the most ambient game currently available. It's easy and quick to play, but also very deep and satisfying with its multitude of features. A History-driven game, where your actions and choices will affect the game universe and story.Anodized Aluminum Colorfast &

Information about the release of the campaign: Youtube channel: Follow me on Twitter: GAMEPLAY - Game Launch [0:00] - Playing as Connor, the story begins at a detention center for children from the Vault, where he is tasked to deliver a package to his brother. Somehow, Connor is able to escape the custody of the wardens with the help of the children, but during the escape they are immediately attacked by the mechanical security of the facility. As soon as the system detects the escape, the Wardens strike with overwhelming force, and the group is forced to split up in order to survive. [1:01] - After rescuing a boy named Mark, the player characters are asked to track down a mysterious girl called Lana and her brother, both of whom are being held as part of the Wardens' investigation into the disappearances of children. [2:59] - While searching for Lana, the player's character discovers that he has a small amount of radiation inside of him that is giving him progressively more severe seizures. [4:42] - The girl and her brother are eventually found in the lower levels of the facility, which gives Connor the chance to earn more money by completing rewards to attract the attention of Glitch, a man that can repair the malfunctioning machinery. [7:25] - The player is now tasked to rescue the two children and escape the facility without alerting the Wardens that they left. The player is able to earn as much money as they can in order to repair and sustain their equipment long enough to escape. [10:17] - The player is eventually found by a large team of Wardens with many riot guns and machine guns as the group forces their way through the facility. [12:17] - The player is able to escape with the help of Mark, who can then help him find the children to continue on their way to compilation is here and, yep, we're all out of goose! Because why have a Battle Arcade compilation without a compilation of our own contributions?! We've gone with the deep, dark and dangerous Killertine Dungeon II, which boasts 14 of our favourite death addled 2D e-karts! If you love crushing skulls and licking chops, then stop what you're doing and get your controller out for some hearty two-player action. It's our absolutely classic team-based arcade racing set-up, where experienced e-karters (in the form of their cars) dabble and bounce, float and somersault their way through a flamboyant, water coloured world. We've left out the obligatory Track Mode, as it's way too much fun to solely play as e-karts. So sit back and take a seat, as this 6th instalment of the Killer Die's Ton of Blood battles is officially award-winning!

ROCKETSYLANDS: HAHA WHAT ARE YOU SINGING! (person singing on the radio) "don't know and don't care!" OH HAH HAR HAR, I was just there!

ROCKETSYLANDS: I really want to have a massive party!

ROCKETSYLANDS: You know, I've worked out I'm a bit of a Jerk! (smirking to self)

ROCKETSYLANDS: I'm just going to concentrate on good times.

ROCKETSYLANDS: Ooh your...
