'Baptism of Fire: Genesis of the Dragon' is the second installment of the 'Legendary Souls' series. Play as the small characters whose destinies are shaped by the choice of a visionary leader who has only one goal in mind: world domination. Help the heroes of the Legendary Souls Series fight against a vast evil to save their world! See the source link for info about the game, released on win32 too I found the right way to debug my problem using this post How to enable logging in wxWidgets 2.8 (Classic)? wxtoolbridge -s I am using wxtoolbridge from now on, but it uses only X11. A: I have found the solution. After a few seconds of window running, usually none of the items on the taskbar showed. So I thought there is some error messages in log or something. When I opened system.log, I found this message at the end of log: [INFO 2015-03-24 05:42:12] "C:\Users\User_name\AppData\Local\Temp\wxWidget2.8\wxWidgets-2.8\wx\shlib\lib\wxtoolbridge.cpp" 136 Debug: wxWidgets-2.8: wxtoolbridge-win32: -s output to "D:\MinGW\System\Log\wxWidgets-2.8-debug.log" So wxtoolbridge is the cause of this problem. As I post before, wxWidgets 2.8 has changed from using Win32 to WINNT. When using wxtoolbridge with Win32 in classic mode, it uses wxtoolbridge-win32 to get the wxtoolbridge command-line arguments. When the change happened, this wxtoolbridge-win32 has been changed into wxtoolbridge-win64, which only creates a wxtoolbridge.exe. Solution: Start up from an old version of wxtoolbridge-win32 which matches to WINNT. Set your wxWidgets to use this version. sudo apt-get install wxtoolbridge-win32=2.8-2 Source (twice): Link 1 Link 2 Q: Database migration causes SQLiteException:

Also included: Three new dragonborn, the Zagnatti: A race spawned from the mind of an alien god. New character sheets and a new "campaign" sheet for the GATE roleplaying system. New maps and encounters for the Temple of Jewels and Mirrors. A secrets of the Temple of Jewels and Mirrors, a short novella for those brave enough to read it. When the players locate a sleeping figure in a chamber filled with treasure, the guards, who are awakened by the noise, quickly arrive on the scene. There is a fight. The adventurers are outnumbered and outclassed but the ancient powers of the patrons are at work. If they die, the city of Stoneroot will slip back into the Dark Ages, their power over the city lost. Lyrica $3,190.00 Notify me when this product is available: Shown here is the Oly Alpha 85, an all new high end acoustic/electric guitar. The Alpha 85 has very delicate tonal nuances that has a slight retro sound with the rare features of a traditional acoustic/electric guitar. The body of the Alpha 85 is constructed of solid spruce with maple tops and rosewood fingerboard with a pearly finish. Added features include innovative preamp heads, an assignable Volume/EQ can be switched between right and left. The back and sides are crafted with mahogany, satin finished for elegance and fine refinement. The body shape is contoured with a contoured rosewood fingerboard as well as a contoured hard bound neck. The Alpha 85 is fully foot operated and neck attached with a traditional dovetail neck joint. The body top is vibrated which is a hollowed out area of the body at the top of the neck. The body is a type of full bass guitar. The top is operated by a bolt instead of traditional tuning machines since the neck is joined directly to the body allowing for a tighter finish. The cut away area is created by adjusting the bridge saddles and moving the bridge forward slightly. This allows for a more even playing surface which eliminates finger vibration and eliminates any lay back feedback. The 12" radius on the fingerboard and 6.3mm nut action provides comfortable playability. This full size full bass acoustic/electric guitar must be set in your home or shop on carpet to prevent the bottom from moving. This guitar is a solid, professional tool. Reviews say it is worth every cent, "Like a Rolls Royce" said one satisfied customer. It goes for almost anything, top $5,000+ and has a great reputation for extreme stability. Another reviewer that experienced issues with the original Alpha said it would not work with the new designs and suggested it was a case of greed. Gunman Taco Truck is a single-screen open world roguelike platformer being developed from the ground up for Windows using the Unity 3D engine. Truck customization is a huge part of GMTT. From introducing a new enemy to five different power up features, the original truck is a close to perfect driving platform. Collect decals for extra points and/or to unlock extra features. Each level is a free roam adventure requiring you to complete objectives and survive with as much ammo and health as you can muster. Stamina and energy gradually regenerate. If you get hit or run out of energy, you die. As you progress through the game you'll get parts to customize your truck. Each part has a different effect when equipped. Gunman Taco Truck is a "through the lens" screenshot driven game with a focus on storytelling and character development. Gunman Taco Truck is developed by a tiny indie company from Melbourne, Australia. We pride ourselves on delivering a fun and engaging game that delivers a complete experience. If you are enjoying the game, we'd love for you to spread the word and play the game! DEVELOPER so we thought, fuck it, we're going for it. any feedback, suggestions, comments, thoughts - welcome. this started out as a trip idea. a fun little excursion. i knew nothing, how to program or what i was doing. but my lovely fiancée, pencilla, stepped up and helped build it out to a game! dont be discouraged if you've never programmed before. the first part of any project is always the hardest. i was totally lost for a long time. but believe it or not you do get better with time. the over-allusion is that every level is a separate world. each has it's own storyline and its own gameplay. but the levels connect to each other by a skip button, like an emergent level design. there are a few more features we'd like to implement, but we're a small team and there just isn't the time. but we'll do what we can. we have a small budget of about $10,000 AUD, but the main focus is to make the game play as well as it looks. it's a really fun game. trust us. its got a great story, lots of surprises and interesting challenges. We are a small team, with limited
