This invention relates to semiconductor memory devices. More particularly, this invention relates to a semiconductor memory device having a high-speed write operation by which data can be efficiently written to a plurality of memory cells in parallel. In recent years, the capacity of the read-only memory device has been increased and, along with this trend, the writing speed has become higher. In order to attain such a high-speed writing operation, a system has been developed in which a plurality of memory cells are connected to one bit line through a plurality of MOS switches and the address of each memory cell is provided to different one of the MOS switches in accordance with the data to be written. To this end, means for electrically disconnecting or connecting the MOS switches in parallel are required to further increase the speed of writing in the memory device. A conventional semiconductor memory device is illustrated in FIG. 1. In FIG. 1, reference numerals 1 and 2 are respectively an address buffer for receiving the address signals A.sub.0 to A.sub.n-1 and A.sub.n and a writing buffer or data buffer for receiving the data signals Q.sub.0 to Q.sub.m-1 and Q.sub.m. The memory cells are selectively connected to a bit line 3 through the MOS switches 4. When the writing operation is performed in this memory device, a writing operation control circuit 5 receives the address signals A.sub.0 to A.sub.n-1 and A.sub.n and the data signals Q.sub.0 to Q.sub.m-1 and Q.sub.m and controls the writing of the data signals Q.sub.0 to Q.sub.m-1 and Q.sub.m to the writing buffer 6. Thereafter, the data signals Q.sub.0 to Q.sub.

Fri, 19 Jan 2018 15:27:36 +0000en-USHourly1>Q: Draw a rectangle on bitmap for each color i am working on image processing using opencv. i want to draw rectangles on image 1 for green color and 2 for red color and so on. for example i want to draw 3 sets of points for each color and i want to save all these points into arrays/matrices. i have searched for it on the net and i have find somewhere but they do not show how to draw a rectangle on bitmap for each color. has anybody any idea or suggestion? A: You could possibly use a MaskGenerator to get a mask for every color. The advantage of a mask is that you get all of your points in one go, you don't need to draw another one afterwards. But before I get to the details of how to do that, I want to point out something else: What you are asking for is a standard task, with any image processing software. This boils down to the fact that you also have to know for every image point which color you want to count, because of the Bitwise operations
